Who is this fund for?

This fund may be an appropriate investment option for Plan members who want a very high capital preservation or for Plan members who have a very short time horizon for their retirement savings plan. This fund is not appropriate for a long-term investor building retirement savings. Investors choosing this fund will need to be comfortable with low expected returns and volatility that result from investing only in money market instruments. The goal of this investment option is to preserve capital, so investors must accept low returns.

Before making any investment decisions you should complete the My PEPP Investor Profile to ensure your investment decision matches your investment style.
